

CESSATION RESOURCES

Smoke-free housing provides a great opportunity to help residents who smoke quit for good.

Quitting isn't easy, but it can be done and it's easier with help. There are many accessible quit smoking resources available in Wisconsin. Residents who smoke can choose the one that's right for them and take the first step towards living a longer and healthier tobacco-free life.

American Lung Association HelpLine

1-800-LUNGUSA

The American Lung Association Lung HelpLine is a full-service national respiratory health call center that provides tobacco cessation counseling to help people quit tobacco and reduce the incidence of tobacco related lung disease. The HelpLine is overseen by board certified physician specialists and staffed by certified smoking cessation counselors (Registered Nurses and Respiratory Therapists).

About 75% of the 139,500 calls to the Helpline in the last year were tobacco/cessation related.

Wisconsin Tobacco Quit Line

1-800-QUIT-NOW

Wisconsin's Tobacco Quit Line has helped more than 130,000 smokers quit smoking since 2001 by providing free, confidential coaching and helping their callers make a plan to quit for good.

Research shows that callers to the Quit Line are four times more likely to quit than if they try to quit on their own. Call today at 1-800-QUIT NOW.

Freedom From Smoking Online

Freedom From Smoking® Online is the American Lung Association's online smoking cessation program. There is both a free and a premium option. The online version is for adult smokers who want to quit but cannot attend a clinic. The program can be accessed 24/7 in the comfort of your own home. The activities are similar to those offered during the traditional clinic setting and participants can even chat online with others who are taking the online version.

Not On Tobacco (N-O-T)

N-O-T is the American Lung Association’s voluntary program to help teens stop smoking or reduce the number of cigarettes they smoke, increase their healthy lifestyle behaviors, and improve their life-management skills. N-O-T helps teens understand why they smoke and helps them develop the skills, confidence, and support they need to quit. Teens learn the skills they need to tackle tough problems such as nicotine withdrawal, cravings to smoking, and peer pressure to continue smoking. The program consists of 10 sessions and can be used in schools or community settings. N-O-T is based on more than 10 years of research and evaluation.
